RRR NETWORK

WHO WE ARE.

We are a not-for-profit organisation that has been connecting and representing the 265,000 Rural, Regional, and Remote (RRR) women of Western Australia for almost 25 years.

Originally a reference group to the Minister of Agriculture and Minister of Regional Development, our mission has always prioritised creating better outcomes for RRR women of Western Australia.

Today, we are a 11,000-strong and connected network of members, subscribers, and followers, including business owners, private and public workers, ranging across agriculture, tourism, health, mining, and other industries.

Our network strategic target is 100,000 by 2040.

We give RRR women a voice. Where and when it matters most...

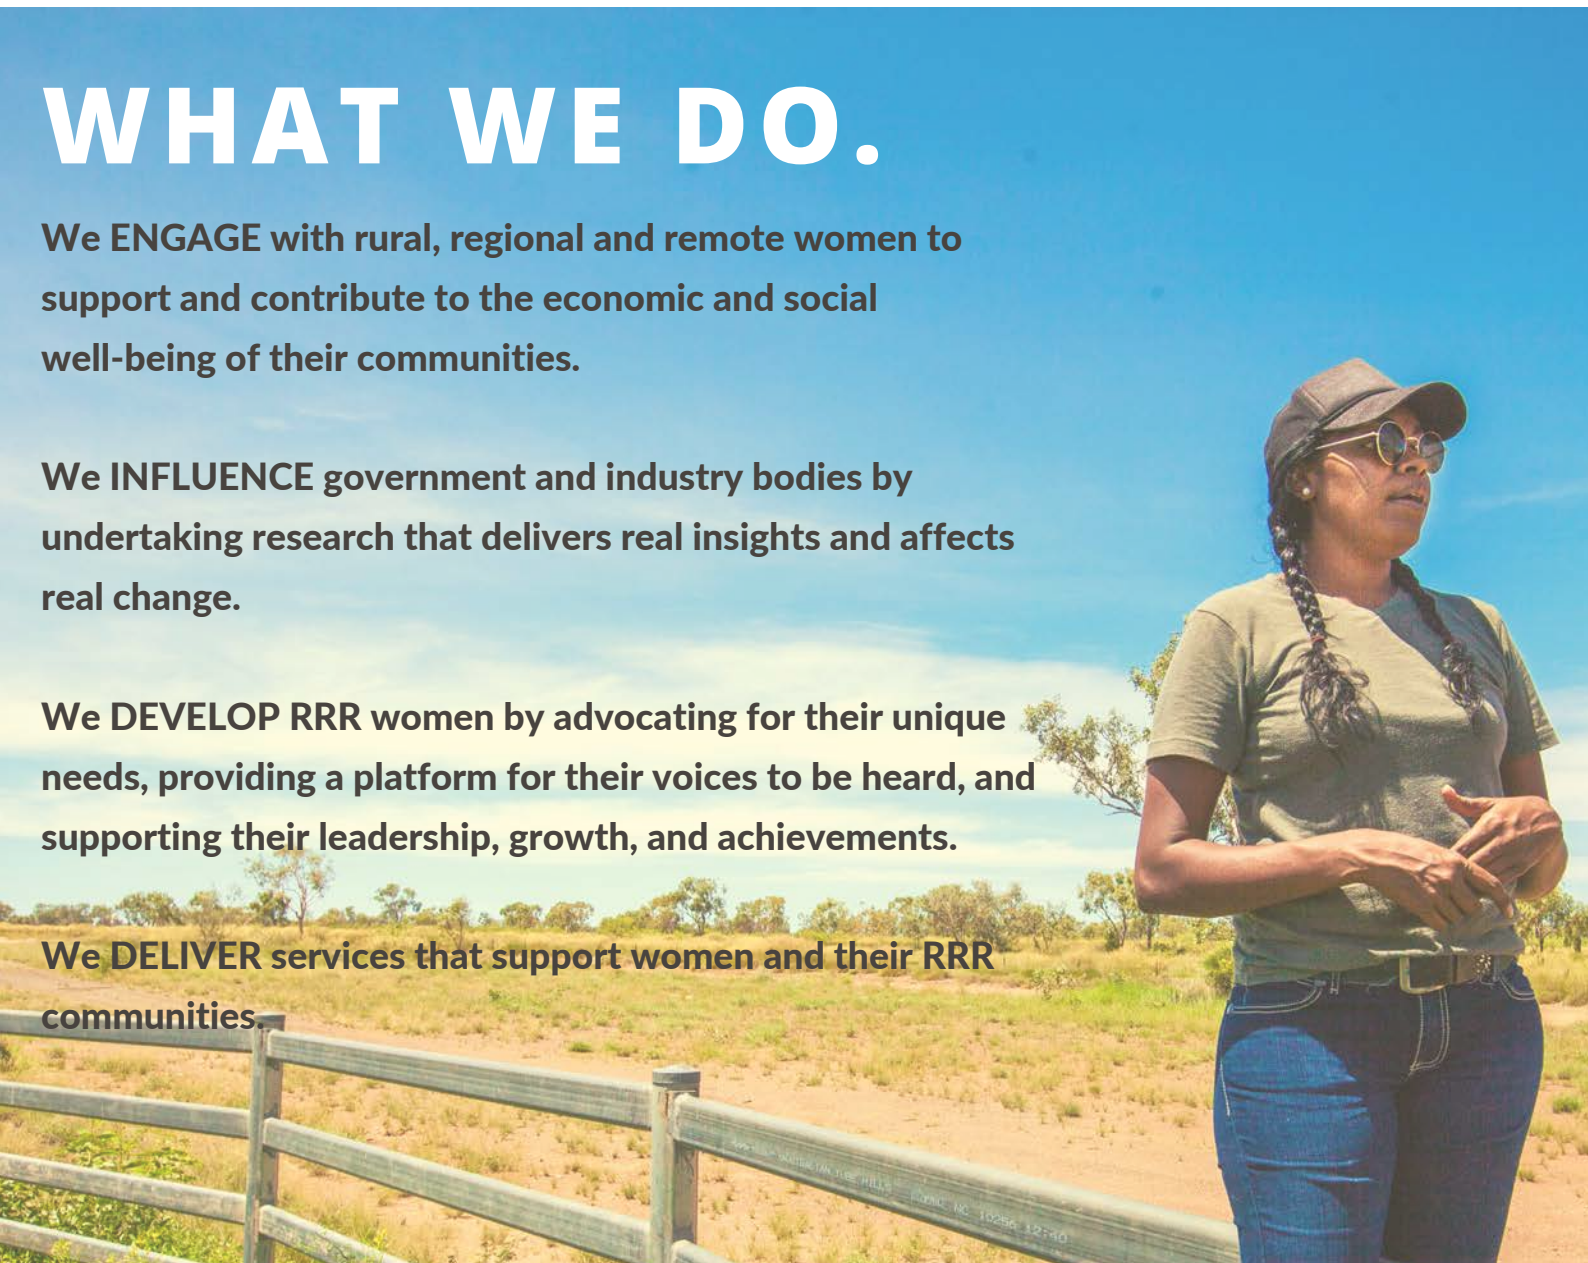

WHAT WE DO.

We ENGAGE with rural, regional and remote women to support and contribute to the economic and social well-being of their communities.

We INFLUENCE government and industry bodies by undertaking research that delivers real insights and affects real change.

We DEVELOP RRR women by advocating for their unique needs, providing a platform for their voices to be heard, and supporting their leadership, growth, and achievements.

We DELIVER services that support women and their RRR communities.
