Vision and Purpose

Curtin University and the RRR Network of WA have been funded by the Australian Government and the National Careers Institute to strengthen career pathways of rural, regional, and remote Western Australian women

This short course will equip rural, regional and remote (RRR) women with the required capabilities and knowledge to take ownership of their careers as a pathway to long and short term career sustainability and economic independence.

A team of experts from academia, industry and local community groups will facilitate a series of targeted workshops to maximise participant learning outcomes, career and life management skills.

Industry mentoring, peer-mentoring and facilitation of a community of practice will ensure long term sustainability as a viable platform and toolkit for locally informed career guidance, collaboration and support.

This world-leading program is fully-funded for RRR participants via the Australian Careers Institute, Curtin University and the RRR Network.

Testimonials

Cindy Hurst – Chiropractor, Allied Health

‘An impressive venture by Curtin University to assist in upskilling female leadership! Very thankful to be invited to attend and have some great discussion with various other like-minded people in my home town.’

Tammee Keast – Chief Operations Officer, Data Divas

‘It was a wonderful session. I cannot wait for the team building we have in train in the region that is already well under way. Asking for directions from each other to ensure we all stay on our realised paths.’

Bianca Corciulo – Community Engagement Manager at Waalitj Foundation:

‘An incredible and uplifting journey with Curtin University – Career Ready in the Region this week in Kalgoorlie! Thank you to our three amazing facilitators, mentors and student compadres! Looking forward to sharing next steps in our pathways.’

Moira Mudzimwa – Secondary Teacher, Founder Black & CUTE

‘I am so glad I attended, it was an amazing experience. Very insightful and engaging. Thanks so much for coming to us.’

Lee Jacobsen – Director at Regional Counselling Services

‘Thanks for bringing this to Kalgoorlie! Looking forward to being involved as a mentor.’

Charmaine Twine - Kalgoorlie Workshop

I would like to express my gratitude to Julia, Jane and Hannah for leaving their furbabies and family to deliver a life changing course to the region. For the non-attendees, wow, what a missed opportunity to gain valuable insights from remarkable women.

Preparation & what to expect

1. Complete Module #1 online

Aim to complete this prior to the face to face workshop. Don't stress if you cannot finish in time - you have 6 months to complete it. Click here to start Module #1.

2. Pre work sheet

This is an opportunity to introduce yourselves to the Curtin University Team and to become familiar with the workshop purpose.

3. Submit any dietary requirements or questions to:

Please ensure you notify us of any dietary requirements at least one week before the course commencement date. Every effort is made to ensure you are catered for.

4. Mentoring and Networking Session:

Part of this course is enabling RRR women to build professional networks and to develop local suitable mentors. To support this objective, we're hosting a mentoring and networking session at the end of day one where local business people can meet the RRR women course participants and through networking support their career journeys with advice, new connections and confidence building. This is an important activity that we strongly encourage you to attend.

5. Commitment:

This is a fully subsidised course made possible by the National Careers Institute, Curtin University and the RRR Network. Each RRR woman placement is to the value of $3,500. By registering you're committing to attending the face to face workshop and completing the additional coursework. If you're unable to attend, you will need to advise us at your earliest convenience so we may offer this opportunity to another willing and able RRR woman.
